7. Draw in the central line using a ruler.

8. Turn one card face down & smear tacky glue on the four corner squares that were indicated by shadows on the right side of the card.

9. With the second card face up turn by one quarter, so that the two central lines would actually form a cross.

10. Stick the second card into position on top of the first ensuring you can see the central cut line on both cards.

11. Allow the glue to dry.
12. Bend the card gently on all of the scored lines.

13. Carefully to avoid cutting both cards at once, cut through the centre lines on both cards using scissors.
